Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 8-14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Landry et al (2004/0002758).

Landry et al discloses a system for inserting an artificial disc implant between human vertebrae, comprising: an inserter having a body, a passage through the body, and arms, wherein the arms are may be releasably coupled to engaging plates of the artificial disc implant; and a distractor positionable in the passage in the body, wherein the distractor is configured to separate the arms of the inserter such that engaging
